Equity, Diversity and Inclusion

Our Equity, Diversity and Inclusion (EDI) specialization develops expertise with both theoretical knowledge and practical skills to recognize systemic, historic and attitudinal barriers that contribute to discrimination and oppression in both workplace learning and classroom settings. Students will use problem-based learning and critical reflection to identify issues, evaluate resources and articulate solutions to EDI issues in Canadian education and in society to counter bias and discrimination against under-represented and equity-deserving groups.

Our unique online format combines asynchronous learning with virtual classrooms to maximize flexibility, interaction, collaboration and community building.
